Time for a change!

Head and shoulders above the rest: The 6400 Line Matrix Printer.

Technological progress cannot be held back. Your existing line printer is already amazingly fast and robust but the 6400 Line Matrix Printer family has taken this a step further. The different models print from 500 lpm (lines per minute) up to 2000 lpm. Being robust and fast are not the only good reasons to look at the 6400 Family.

From an economic perspective ...

- Lower maintenance cost
- Lower power consumption
- Superior design, durable construction and smaller footprint
- Lower supplies price

... technical configuration ...

- Integrated Network Attachment (Fast Ethernet)
- Powerful remote management utility (PMU) to help reduce printer downtime
- Hot port switching to support LAN or host environment with a single device

... as well as ease of use!

- No need to change bands for different font styles
- Full graphics, barcode and IPDS capability
- Lower acoustics

A Resounding Success

If you print multi-part forms, the 6400 provides an enormous quality improvement as the strength of the Line Matrix Printer lies in its technology. The hammer technology of band printers distributes energy across the complete character, which minimises the energy available to compress multi-part forms.

6400 Line Matrix Printers show a much better print quality as the energy is transferred to each individual dot that makes up a character and therefore provides a higher force to compress multi-part forms.
